

TRANSLATION AND THE MEDIA

Participantes: Luc VAN DOORSLAER (University of Tartu/KU Leuven) y Roberto VALDEÓN GARCÍA (Universidad de Oviedo). Moderadora: M^a Rosario MARTÍN RUANO (Universidad de Salamanca)

Luc van Doorslaer is Chair Professor in Translation Studies at the University of Tartu (Estonia). He is also the director of CETRA, the Centre for Translation Studies at the University of Leuven (Belgium). As a Research Associate he is affiliated with Stellenbosch University (South Africa). Since 2016 he has been Vice President of EST, the European Society for Translation Studies. Together with Yves Gambier, he is the editor of the online Translation Studies Bibliography (13th release 2010-13) and the four volumes of the Handbook of Translation Studies (2010-2013). Other recent books edited include Eurocentrism in Translation Studies (2013), The Known Unknowns of Translation Studies (2014), Interconnecting Translation Studies and Imagology (2016) and Border Crossings. Translation Studies and other Disciplines (2016). His main research interests are: journalism and translation, ideology and translation, imagology and translation, institutionalization of Translation Studies.

Roberto A. Valdeón is Professor in English Studies at the University of Oviedo, Spain. He is a Member of the Academy of Europe, the Editor-in-Chief of Perspectives Studies in Translation Theory and Practice and General Editor of the Benjamins Translation Library. He has published over a hundred articles, books and book chapters on EFL and translation, almost half of them included in the Arts & Humanities Citation Index, the Social Sciences Citation Index or Scopus, including contributions to journals such as Across Languages and Cultures, Meta, Intercultural Pragmatics, Terminology, Bulletin of Spanish Studies, Target, Babel, International Journal of Applied Linguistics, Languages in Contrast, Philological Quarterly, Journalism, Translation Studies and Translating and Interpreting Studies. He has been a visiting scholar at the University of Massachusetts Amherst, US, and a Visiting Professor at the University of Leuven, Belgium, and has been appointed Research Fellow at the University of the Free State, South Africa, for the period 2014-2020, and Honorary Professor at Jinan University, Huazhong University of Science and Technology, Nankai University and Beijing International Studies University in China, and at the University of Stirling in the UK.

VÍdeo de la mesa redonda “Translation and the Media”